Official Paper of Dakota City and Dakota County.

Entered as second class matter in the postoffice at Dakota City, Nebr.

Mrs. Marie Weekes of the Norfolk Press has ended her vagaries by becoming the congressional candidate of the Non-partisan League.—Hartington Herald.

The Newcastle Times came to us the past week under a new management. A. L. Webber is the new editor, and he has already improved the appearance of the paper to some extent.

Nebraska Non-partisans leaguers are a gallant bunch when it comes to dealing with the women. That much can be said in their favor.
Those of the Third district have picked Marie Weekes of Madison county as their candidate for congress. She is one of the editors of a league paper published in Norfolk.
Chances are that being connected with a newspaper will be her handicap in running for office. Newspaper people, as a rule, are not successful vote getters when it comes to working for themselves.—Omaha New Nebraskan.

Creosote Lengthens Life of Posts

The life of fence posts may be increased four or five times by treating them with coal tar creosote, says a Nebraska College of Agriculture circular called "Preservative Treatment of Fence Posts." This is especially true of such wood as ash, boxelder, cottonwood, basswood, soft maple, white elm, white cedar and willow. Experiments show that the life of an untreated ash post is about seven years, treated, 25 years.
Untreated boxelder, 4 years; treated, 21 years. Untreated white cedar, 12 years; treated, 30 years. A gallon of creosote is sufficient to treat three small posts or two large posts.
If coal tar creosote can be bought for 30 to 35 cents a gallon in barrel lots, it will cost 20 to 30 cents to treat a post, making due allowance for labor items, including peeling.
This circular, as well as United States Department of Agriculture farmers' bulletin 744, "Preservative Treatment of Farm Timbers," may be obtained free from the College of Agriculture.

State Helping Fight Pests

The Nebraska College of Agriculture is distributing free of charge a number of bulletins and circulars on the control of insects and other pests.
These publications deal with many of the important Nebraska crop pests, such as grasshoppers, pocket gophers, cutworms, the Hessian fly, the sugar beet webworm, the strawberry leaf roller, etc. One on household pests is called "Control Methods for Household Pests." It discusses what can be done to rid the house of flies, ants, bedbugs, clothes moths, carpet beetles, cockroaches, crickets, lice on house plants, boxelder bugs, rats and mice, and insects in flour, meal, breakfast foods, ham, bacon, cheese, etc. A list of these publications will be sent on request and those desired may be checked off and the list returned to the College.

Wednesday from Omaha, where she attended the wedding of her sister, Miss Mary Quinn, to Mr. Frank Moran of Spalding, Neb.

Word was received here last Sunday from Omaha of the death of Erin Maun, after a lingering illness. The deceased formerly lived here. His daughter, Mrs. Tim Hodgins, and his sisters, Mrs. M. Boler and Mrs. Amy Brady, departed Sunday evening for Omaha, and C. J. Goodfellow and John Heenan left Monday to attend the funeral, which was held in Omaha Tuesday morning.

Miss Mame Maloney, a June bride, in St. Patrick's hall Tuesday evening.
Dancing was enjoyed, and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. C. H. Goodfellow entertained a number of young ladies Tuesday afternoon, complimentary to Miss Mary Bachey, of Chicago.

MORAN-QUINN.

On Tuesday morning at St. Philomena's church, Omaha, occurred the marriage of Miss Mary V. Quinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Quinn of Jackson, Neb., and Mr. Frank Moran of Spalding, Neb. Only the immediate friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. M. A. Quinn, brother of the bride.

The bride was becomingly attired in a modish suit of dark blue tricotine with which was worn a dark blue silk hat with henna trimmings and carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Quinn, of Jackson, Neb., who was likewise attired in navy blue tricotine suit, and carried a shower bou-quet of sweet peas.

The groom was attended by his nephew, Mr. Jack Phelan, of Spalding.

The guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McHale and daughters, Gertrude and Bernice, of Fairbury, Neb., Mrs. Gilman of Omaha, Neb., Mrs. A. N. Tolen of Langdon, N. D., Will Moran and Mrs. Smith, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, and Mrs. Mary Phelan of Spalding.

The bride is one of Dakota county's best and finest young ladies, is a graduate of St. Catherine academy, and for a number of years has been one of Nebraska's most successful teachers. For two years she filled the office of county superintendent of schools in Dakota county, and at the time of her marriage was superintendent of schools in Spalding, Neb.

The groom is one of Spalding's leading business men, being president of the Spalding State bank.

After a western trip they will be at home at Spalding, where they will occupy the handsome bungalow just completed by Mr. Moran.

Emerson, were Homer visitors Sunday.

Our big flag pole was bent almost double during the big wind storm a week ago.

Tom Allaway and family of South Sioux City were Homer visitors on Sunday.

Homer sadly needs a vigilantes committee. One can't leave belongings on their porch and find them there when they want them. We think it is time something was done.

We have suffered from the flood enough. All our winter potatoes gone, besides all vegetables, and the ground too wet and sour to raise more—even late ones. Our fruit cupboard and a six gallon meat jar has been taken from our back door.

Another party set a walnut table out side to set things on and that has disappeared; still another told me they had missed a good many things.

home of Mrs. M. G. Leamer. The serving committee is Mrs. Leamer, Mrs. Wm. Berger, Mrs. Walter E.
Miller and Mrs. C. R. Lowe.

Mrs. Geo. W. Bates and Mrs. Henry Beermann visited last week with relatives in Butler and Brown counties, Iowa, making their headquarters in the home of Herman Schmaderke, at Clarksville. They report a very enjoyable time.

Mrs. Agnes Barnett celebrated her 81st birthday last Wednesday. Besides her children about twenty of her neighbors and friends surprised her by calling unexpectedly and making the occasion a joyous one. Mrs.
Barnett has been a resident of this county since 1865, and has resided practically all these years at the old farm home in Brushy Bend, where she now resides.

Maynard Gribble, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. W. Gribble, died in a Sioux City hospital Tuesday afternoon from the effects of being kicked by a horse in the stomach.
He was driving a team on a hay stacker Monday afternoon, when one of the horses stepped over the traces, and while getting the animal back he was kicked and knocked down. He did not complain of his injuries at the time, but the effects of the kick began to tell on him an hour later, and he was removed to a Sioux City hospital. He remained conscious until the end came Tuesday afternoon.
Besides his parents he is survived by two sisters and two brothers. The bereaved family have the heartfelt sympathy of this community in their hour of sorrow.
